UAXASHAKTUN AK PAKAL MUURS NATION MUURISH DECLARATION OF ANCESTRAL AND BLOOD-RIGHT TITLE TO ASQU-SHAMAL

LAND MASS KNOWN AS NORTH AMERICA

National Declaration and Record of Ancestral Inheritance, Blood-Right Succession, Kinship, Continuity, Stewardship, Priority, and Asserted Title

PREAMBLE

By authority asserted through the Uaxashaktun Ak Pakal Muurs Nation and its Grand Council of Elders, and upon the Nation's ancestral, historical, genetic, genealogical, epigraphic, archaeological, religious, legal, governmental, recorded, and public-notice materials, this Declaration memorializes the Nation's asserted preexisting ancestral interest in Asqu-Shamal. The Nation maintains that this interest arises through ancestral presence, blood and kinship continuity, inheritance, succession, and stewardship—not through the execution of this instrument, subsequent recording or publication, or the silence of another party.

I. NATIONAL AUTHORITY AND IDENTITY OF THE ESTATE

The Nation grounds this Declaration in the laws of The Most High, the laws of nature, ancestral inheritance, Blood-Right succession, and the Nation's laws, customs, declarations, and governmental acts. It issues this instrument as an act of the Uaxashaktun Ak Pakal Muurs Nation for preservation in its national record.

For purposes of this Declaration, Asqu-Shamal refers to the land mass presently known as North America, identified in the Nation's prior Grand Council materials as the subject of its ancestral and Blood-Right claim.

II. GRAND COUNCIL SUBMISSION AND EVIDENTIARY RECORD

On March 15, 2024, a submission was presented to the Grand Council of Elders requesting determination of title to North America, known as Asqu-Shamal. It presented materials concerning prior ancestral presence, the Bourne Stone, mounds, claimed ancient genetic ties, pre-Columbian evidence, and Johnson v. McIntosh. The submission requested that, if the evidence were found "right and exact," the Council render law upon the Nation in the form of a ne plus ultra title and reflect the matter through newspaper publication and notice.

On June 18, 2024, the Grand Council record entitled "Evidence of Asqu-Shamal's (land mass known as NORTH AMERICA) return to its rightful heirs in equity" examined the claimed evidentiary foundation. The record identifies claimed ancient genetic ties and ancestral presence and describes the Nation's Muurs as heirs and beneficiaries of asserted ancient claims and deeds through a "dual nature inheritance established by blood."

III. BLOOD-RIGHT, DESCENT, AND ANCESTRAL CONTINUITY

"Blood-Right" in this Declaration does not signify merely a racial classification. It concerns descent, kinship, genealogy, genetic genealogy, ancestry, inheritance, succession, and continuity between an ancestral people and their claimed living descendants. The Nation asserts that the relationships presented in its record link Muurs within the Nation to people associated with Asqu-Shamal, the Bourne Stone, and the mounds.

> ASSERTED CHAIN: ANCESTRAL PEOPLE → PRESENCE UPON ASQU-SHAMAL → ORIGINAL ANCESTRAL INTEREST → BLOOD AND KINSHIP CONTINUITY → DESCENDANTS → BLOOD-RIGHT HEIRS → UAXASHAKTUN AK PAKAL MUURS NATION → PRESENT STEWARDSHIP.

Within the Nation's framework, later discovery of genealogical, genetic, documentary, historical, archaeological, or other evidence identifies an asserted relationship and successor; it does not create the ancestor, bloodline, or claimed ancestral interest on the date of discovery. The ancestral interest is asserted to precede the heir's knowledge of it.

IV. MAXIMS AND PRINCIPLES GOVERNING THE ASSERTED CHAIN

The Nation invokes the following principles to explain its claimed ancestral priority and succession:

A. PRIOR IN TEMPORE, POTIOR IN JURE - First in time is stronger in right.

The Nation maintains that an established earlier ancestral interest holds priority in its asserted chain over a subsequent competing claim; a newer document alone does not displace that earlier interest.

B. NEMO DAT QUOD NON HABET - No one can give what he does not have.

A derivative claimant cannot receive more than the predecessor possessed. Under the Nation's theory, a subsequent conveyance, charter, grant, assignment, treaty, governmental succession, or other instrument does not elevate a subordinate predecessor interest into superior title.

C. SEISINA FACIT STIPITEM - Seisin makes the stock or root from which inheritance is traced.

The inquiry concerns the ancestral root, the origin of the asserted interest, those descending from that root, and the chain linking the original interest to living Blood-Right Heirs, not solely the most recent possessor, government, deed, or recording.

Where direct ancestral succession is supported by evidence accepted in the Nation's record, that line is preserved in the Nation's determination of kinship and Blood-Right inheritance.

E. NEMO EST HAERES VIVENTIS - No one is the heir of a living person.

The Nation distinguishes living ancestry from inheritance following succession and uses ancestor, descendant, heir, Blood-Right Heir, beneficiary, successor, and inheritor in accordance with the relationships reflected in its genealogical record.

F. FIRST POSSESSION AND PRIOR ANCESTRAL INTEREST

For purposes of the Nation's claim, "first in line" refers to the first demonstrated ancestral interest and its succession to Blood-Right Heirs, not simply the first modern filing or the last claimant in possession. Competing chains are to be examined at their sources, considering origin, chronology, succession, and asserted authority.

Dyana Limon-Mercado, County Clerk
By Deputy: T. MATA

V. PRIORITY AND DERIVATIVE CLAIMS

The Nation asserts that its Blood-Right Heirs succeed through the direct ancestral chain to an interest in Asqu-Shamal predating later competing claims and thus are, under the Nation's laws and determinations, first in line and first in right.

Its asserted progression is: ancestral presence → ancestral interest → continuity through blood and kinship → inheritance and succession → Blood-Right Heirs → first in line → first in right.

The Grand Council record contends that later European claims based on discovery could not convey a superior interest where an earlier ancestral interest existed. Its materials invoke Johnson v. McIntosh in connection with prior Christian discovery and maintain that later European discovery was subject to discovery by prior Christian peoples. The Nation accordingly asserts ancestral title through its claimed descent and stewardship rather than through a subsequent European or colonial grant or derivative governmental chain.

VI. RECORDING, PUBLIC NOTICE, AND RESPONSE

An instrument concerning the Nation's land claim and rights to Asqu-Shamal was recorded in the Travis County Clerk Deed Records as Document No. 2026104682. This recording is included as evidence of placement upon the public record.

The Nation thereafter caused newspaper publication of the notice titled:

> "NATIONAL AND INTERNATIONAL NOTICE TO AFFECT EVERYONE IN RE: THE UAXASHAKTUN AK PAKAL MUURS NATION'S LAND CLAIM AND RIGHTS TO ASQU-SHAMAL, I.E., NORTH AMERICA IN TOTO."

The completed publication, publisher's proof or affidavit, and response materials shall be incorporated into the Nation's evidentiary record. After the stated response period expires, the Nation shall attach or incorporate the executed Affidavit of Publication and No Response by the Public, when applicable, and preserve and identify any responses actually received.

If the completed affidavit establishes that no written objection, rebuttal, adverse claim, factual correction, or competing claim was received through the designated channels during the stated period, the Nation enters that non-response on its national record as acquiescence under its own laws, customs, declarations, and notice principles. The Nation treats the notice and response record as subsequent documentation of its claim, not as the original source of any ancestral interest.

VII. FORMAL DECLARATION OF ASSERTED TITLE

NOW, THEREFORE, the Uaxashaktun Ak Pakal Muurs Nation hereby declares and enters upon its national record its asserted MUURISH/ MAURI/ MOORISH ANCESTRAL AND BLOOD-RIGHT TITLE, INHERITANCE, KINSHIP, SUCCESSION, INTEREST, STEWARDSHIP, AND PRIORITY TO ASQU-SHAMAL.

The Nation declares that its Blood-Right Heirs stand in the asserted line of succession to the underlying ancestral estate: blood identifies kinship; kinship establishes the claimed line of descent; descent identifies successors; inheritance carries the claimed ancestral interest; and priority identifies the earliest asserted interest in that chain.

VIII. PRESERVATION OF RIGHTS AND NATIONAL RECORD

All ancestral, hereditary, Blood-Right, kinship, historical, governmental, equitable, spiritual, cultural, and national rights and claims asserted by the Nation and its Blood-Right Heirs are preserved upon its national record. Omission of an evidentiary document from an individual physical copy does not, within that record, constitute abandonment of material previously submitted, enacted, recorded, published, or incorporated by reference.

IX. EXECUTION

Executed by the authorized national officers and/or Grand Council representatives of the Uaxashaktun Ak Pakal Muurs Nation, following completion of the publication and response process, with the Nation's seal affixed as an act of its national record.

NOTICE OF CLAIM, RECORD, VERIFICATION OF TITLE, AND MEMORANDUM OF LAW

Regarding Asqu-Shamal, Known in Modern Usage as North America

Issued from: Uaxashaktun Ak Pakal Muurs Nation, by and through its National Secretary, Grand Council of Elders, Executive Ministry, lawful representatives, heirs, beneficiaries, and successors in interest

To: All State, Federal, International, Intergovernmental, Diplomatic, Administrative, Judicial, Land, Historical, Cultural, Human Rights, Indigenous Rights, Treaty, Archival, and Cultural Resource Agencies and Offices

NOTICE:

Let it be known and entered upon the public, administrative, diplomatic, historical, treaty, land, and equitable record that Uaxashaktun Ak Pakal Muurs Nation hereby gives formal Notice and to transmit Knowledge of its standing, claim, reserved rights, and demand for verification concerning the land mass known in modern political geography as North America, and known in antiquity as Asqu-Shamal.

This Notice is issued pursuant to the legislative enactment titled 'In Lege Asqu-Shamal Redditur', meaning "In law Asqu-Shamal is returned," approved by the Legislative Ministry as the Grand Council of Elders, and enacted by the Executive Ministry of Uaxashaktun Ak Pakal Muurs Nation.

MEMORANDUM OF LAW AND ADMINISTRATIVE FOUNDATION:

This Notice and Memorandum is submitted under principles of law, equity, administrative due process, public record doctrine, evidentiary preservation, good-faith response to lawful notice, and the right of a people to place claims, objections, and corrections upon the public and international record.

The controlling issue presented is whether Great Britain, and thereafter the United States or any derivative state, federal, or colonial successor, ever obtained clean, lawful, superior, and extinguishing title to Asqu-Shamal.

The record relied upon by Uaxashaktun Ak Pakal Muurs Nation asserts that Great Britain's claimed title under the Doctrine of Discovery was defective because that doctrine, as discussed in the Supreme Court of the United States' judicial record of Johnson v. McIntosh (1823), on page 577, demonstrates that Great Britain's claimed title under its interpretation of the Doctrine of Discovery was subject to prior Christian discovery. The legislative record of Uaxashaktun Ak Pakal Muurs Nation asserts that ancient Christian Berbers of old Mauretania, i.e., Moors, had already entered, named, marked, occupied, taught, and established sacred and civil presence upon Asqu-Shamal in the fourth and fifth centuries, and had returned to the Mauro-Roman Kingdom in the late fifth century to record their voyage, and gave written testimony in the name of Jesus Christ, "...by oath sworn to Christ the Lord, of the world emperor crowned Lord Jesus..." at least ten centuries before Christopher Columbus and later European colonial Christian powers. He who is first in time is stronger in right, and what is first in time, is best in law.

As a matter of law and equity, a party cannot convey greater title than it possesses, as this is also a matter of judicial record contained within Johnson v. McIntosh (1823), on page 584. Therefore, if Great Britain held no clean superior title, it could not convey such title to the United States or any derivative entity. The burden shifts to any opposing government, agency, or claimant to produce verified, lawful, and unbroken chain-of-title evidence showing superior title, lawful extinguishment, treaty cession, purchase, conquest, abandonment, or other competent legal authority defeating the prior claim and title of the Muurs/ Moors.

BASIS OF CLAIM:

The claim of Uaxashaktun Ak Pakal Muurs Nation rests upon historical, epigraphic, religious, equitable, treaty, ancestral genetic inheritance, and administrative grounds, including:

1. Prior discovery and presence: The record asserts that ancient Muurs/Moors of Mauretanian, North African, Iberian, Punic, Carthaginian, and related ancestral lines entered and named the land Asqu-Shamal prior to later European claims.

2. Epigraphic and landmark evidence: The record identifies ancient inscriptions, stone records, mounds, and the Bourne Stone of Kumassakumkanit, Massachusetts, as evidence of ancient proclamation, boundary marking, civil presence, and inheritance.

3. Religious and cultural continuity: The record asserts early Christian Berber, i.e., Moorish presence in Asqu-Shamal, including teachings associated with Ya'shua Ha Mashiakh/ Isa Al Messi/ Jesus Christ along with continuity through the Holy Bible, Holy Qur'an, and the recorded religious adherence of the Moorish people (Leviticus 25:8-10 and Micah 4:4).

4. Equity and inheritance: The Nation asserts that within the Uaxashaktun Ak Pakal Muurs Nation are heirs and beneficiaries of the ancient claimants, and that equity regards as done that which ought to have been done, as well as it regards the beneficiary as the true owner. What our ancient ancestors were, we are today without doubt or contradiction, and only God, and not man, can make an heir.

Date: 09/01/2026
By: B. Lordo Dyana Limon-Mercado, Travis County Clerk
B. Lordo Deputy Clerk

5. Treaty and diplomatic record: The record relies upon treaty relations and diplomatic recognition connected to the Moroccan Treaty of Peace and Friendship and related historical correspondence. Also, equitable interests are considered as being subject to the laws of property, and the Moroccan Treaty of Peace and Friendship entails the subject of property as well.

6. Misclassification objection: The Nation objects to any use of colonial, racial, administrative, or statutory classifications to erase, diminish, misidentify, or extinguish Muur/Moor identity, inheritance, nationality, standing, or claim and paramount title (Ne Plus Ultra).

DEMAND FOR RECOGNITION, VERIFICATION, AND ACTION:

All receiving parties are hereby noticed and required to:

1. Receive, preserve, record, and acknowledge this Notice and Memorandum, as well as the territorial ancestral inheritance of the Muurs/ Moors of Uaxashaktun Ak Pakal Muurs Nation in relation to their Asqu-Shamal claim, and the receptions, preservations, recordation, and acknowledgements are to be carried out within the receiving parties' respective administrative systems.

2. Cease and desist from any presumption that Uaxashaktun Ak Pakal Muurs Nation, its nationals, heirs, beneficiaries, or representatives lack standing, title interest, treaty relevance, cultural patrimony, ancestral inheritance, or protected status.

3. Produce any alleged superior title, treaty, conveyance, extinguishment record, cession, purchase, conquest instrument, or chain-of-title documentation relied upon to defeat the prior Muur/ Moor claim to Asqu-Shamal.

4. Preserve all records, archives, artifacts, inscriptions, mounds, burial grounds, sacred sites, cultural sites, genetic records, land records, treaty records, and historical evidence related to Muur/Moor presence in Asqu-Shamal.

5. Engage in good-faith consultation with Uaxashaktun Ak Pakal Muurs Nation where land, heritage, sacred sites, identity, nationality, records, cultural patrimony, human rights, treaty relations, or administrative classifications are concerned.

OPPORTUNITY AND DUTY TO RESPOND (PROVERBS 22:20-21 & PUB. L. 97-280):

Any party asserting a competing or superior claim shall respond within thirty (30) days of receipt of this Notice with verified evidence supporting such claim. Failure to respond shall be entered into the administrative record as non-response, failure to rebut, and tacit admission that the receiving party has not produced verified evidence sufficient to defeat the claim noticed herein.

III. DISCOVERY OF ADDRESS CORRECTION

7. Following completion of the original certified mailings, I reviewed the recipient information maintained for each addressee identified within the Certificate of Notary Presentment.
8. During that review, I discovered that the mailing address used for the National Association of State Trust Lands (NASTL) did not reflect the correspondence address that I later verified for the organization.
9. Upon verification, I determined that correspondence should be directed to the following address:

15. The USPS tracking history further reflects the status:

Product Tracking & Reporting

USPS Tracking Intranet Tracking Number Result

1. Do not share information from this site outside of USPS. It is intended for USPS employee use only.

2. Employees may see some items with only event MT in the tracking record. This is an indication that the tracking number was part of problem where the USPS Label Creation API created the same label number multiple times. This led to a confusing tracking experience, so tracking has been suppressed. Reference these tickets for more info: INC000010676253, INC000010539853, INC000010866591.

We the GCOE will examine the evidence that suggest…

1. Great Britain never acquired title to North America in any fashion via the Doctrine of Discovery, and although that doctrine supported Christian discovery, Great Britain's discovery was subject to discovery made by prior Christian people. Please review Johnson v. McIntosh (1823). The early Christian Moors of old Mauretania had colonized and named America "Asqu-Shamal" approximately 1,012 years prior to Christopher Columbus' arrival. If Great Britain had no lawful title, then it was impossible to pass lawful title to the United States of America.

2. The teachings of Ya'shua Ha Mashiakh, i.e. Isa Al Messi, were known and taught on these American lands as early as the 4th and 5th centuries A.D. by the Christian Moors of old Mauretania. Ya'shua Ha-Mashiakh said in the Gospel of Matthew at chapter 5, verses 17-18 in the Holy Bible, that the laws of The Most High Yahuweh Hawasha Washa Allah are forever present and immutable. The Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled has resolved and affirmed this in their Statutes at Large found at 96 Stat. 1211, and is accepted as their law under Public Law 97-280.

3. Noble Drew Ali recorded our adherence to the Holy Qur'an in the Cook County Recorder of Deeds Office in Illinois under instrument number 10105905. The Holy Qur'an confirms the Holy Bible in several Ayats within several Surahs.

4. The Bourne Stone landmark of Kumassakumkanit, Massachusetts was a proclamation given by Hanno the Navigator, in which he claimed this land in annexation to the Punic Iberian Carthaginian Empire in the east. The mounds of North America are testaments of our ancestors who built civilization in this land as well. This boundary stone and these mounds are protected under Deuteronomy 19:14 and 27:17. It is further affirmed in Psalm 16:6, Proverbs 22:28 and 23:10. These passages speak specifically to land inheritances.

5. The Muurs within the Uaxashaktun Ak Pakal Muurs Nation have ancient genetic ties to the people who were responsible for Asqu-Shamal and the Bourne Stone, as well as the mounds, and therefore have a dual nature inheritance established by blood. We wish to honor our ancient forefathers and foremothers in the fullest and correct capacity as possible by stepping into our position as the rightful heirs and beneficiaries of these ancient claims and deeds without hesitation or molestation from colonial descendants. Equity regards the beneficiary as the true owner.

Based on these 5 points Toriano ObaShango-El, initiates a claim that ties the land of North America named in antiquity "Asqu-Shamal" to the Uaxashaktun Ak Pakal Muurs. The Grand Council of Elders will examine the who, what, when, where and how as illustrated through the Johnson v. McIntosh (1823) case law, Epigraphic society translation of the Moroccan migration to the Americas, as well as pre-Columbian resource comparisons, and various Uaxashaktun Ak Pakal Muurs Nations genetic documents.

It's likely Great Britain, Spain, Portugal, France and other European nations were not aware of Asqu-Shamal. Christians had been coming to North America since the 4th century and established a church here in the 5th century. These Christians were Muurs. Johnson v. Mcintosh case (1823) highlights the error in Britain's claim to this land. United States Chief Justice John Marshall gave his opinion with regards to the case law. The highlighted points come from Great Britain's point of view with the understanding that the United States is Great Britain's offspring.

Johnson v. Macintosh excerpt 1

In this first effort made by the English government to acquire territory on this continent, we perceive a complete recognition of the principle which has been mentioned. The right of discovery given by this commission, is confined to countries "then unknown to all Christian people;" and all of these countries Cabot was empowered to take possession in the name of the king of England. Thus asserting a right to take possession, *577 notwithstanding the occupancy of natives, who were heathens, and, at the same time, admitting the prior title of any Christian people who may have made previous discovery.

In this excerpt the U.S. acknowledged and admitted any Christian people prior to Europeans (Coptic Christians) or anyone before Great Britain who made a previous discovery must be acknowledged. The Mauretanians were here approximately 1200 years before Great Britain. There is a possibility that at the time they perhaps did not know about North African Christianity because Christianity had taken root in North and Northwest Africa and Rome was still operating under the mythological Gods (Zeus, Jupiter, Mercury) etc. and they were at war with the Christians. By the time Rome had adopted Christianity in the 4th century 325 AD, North Africa had already had Christianity for approximately 200 years. When the Vandals invaded North Africa, they crossed the pillars of Hercules now known as the Strait of Gibraltar. The Mauretanians then fled and sailed to Asqu-Shamal (land now known as North America) and set up landmarks in the 4th century in the Arkansas Narrows Cave Rock Shelters with the death and resurrection of Ya'shua Ha Mashiakh. The Mauretanians returned again in the 5th century and established the church in Connecticut and named the land Asqu-Shamal and recorded the journey in epigraphic records in stone. That recorded journey in North Africa gave truthful testimony in the name of Christ (which is an affidavit). So what does this mean? Prior Christian discovery had already been made, the continent had already been named.

By the treaty concluded the war of our revolution, Great Britain relinquished all claim, not only to the government, but to the "propriety and territorial rights of the United States," whose boundaries were fixed in the second article. By this treaty, the powers of the government, and the right to soil, which had previously been in Great Britain, passed definitively to theses States. We had before taken possession of them, by declaring independence; but neither the declaration of independence, nor the treaty confirming it, could give us more than that which we before possessed, or to which Great Britain was before entitled. It *585 has never been doubted, that either the United States, or the several States, had a clear title to all the lands within the boundary lines described in the treaty, subject only to Indian right of occupancy, and that the exclusive power to extinguish power to extinguish that right, was vested in that government which might constitutionally exercise.

This excerpt tells us that if Great Britain recognized prior Christian claims before them then the title (prior claim) supersedes theirs (Great Britain's). In this case land title can only be granted to the old Mauretanians (Muurs). The United States title is hinged on Great Britain's title. Great Britain cannot have title if there is a prior Christian discovery. It's worth noting that because of the prior Mauretanian Christian (Muurs) discovery that the crown cannot pass the United States any more rights than what they too possessed as stated in the above excerpt. You cannot pass title to the United States when your interest in the land was subject to a prior claim.

The power now possessed by the government of the United States to grant lands, resided, while we were colonies, in the crown, or its grantees. The validity of the titles given by either has never *588 been questioned in our Courts. It has been exercised uniformly over territory in possession of the Indians. The existence of this power must negative the existence of any right which may conflict with, and control it. An absolute, must be an exclusive title, or at least a title which excludes all others not compatible with it. All our institutions recognise the absolute title of the crown, subject only to the Indian right of occupancy, and recognise the absolute title of the crown to extinguish that right. This is incompatible with an absolute and complete title in the Indians.

According to this excerpt, absolute title comes from the crown, however the crown also honors and acknowledges prior Christian title before it! The term "Indian" is a misnomer. "Indian" is a term used in order to categorize property under the Vatican and the Doctrine of Discovery and to remove those that identify themselves with that term from the aspect of civilization and prior discovery. The crown needs to identify you with a term that has no standing in law which is in this case the term "Indian." The misnomer "Indian" was in truth referring to the true land owner termed Muur (Mauretanians).

This opinion conforms precisely to the principle which has been supposed to be recognized by all European governments, from the first settlement of America. The absolute ultimate title has been considered as acquired by discovery, subject only to the Indian title of occupancy, which title the discoverers possessed the exclusive right of acquiring. Such a right is no more incompatible with a seisin in fee, than a lease for years, and might effectually bar an ejectment.

This excerpt refers to Great Britain having "seisin in fee" which gives them absolute ownership, however as has been illustrated this seisin in fee (due to the prior Mauretanian Christian discovery) was never valid and thus void.

Johnson v. Macintosh excerpt 5

It has been contended that, in this proclamation, the king transcended his constitutional powers; and the case of Campbell v. Hall, (reported by Cowper,) is relied on to support this position.

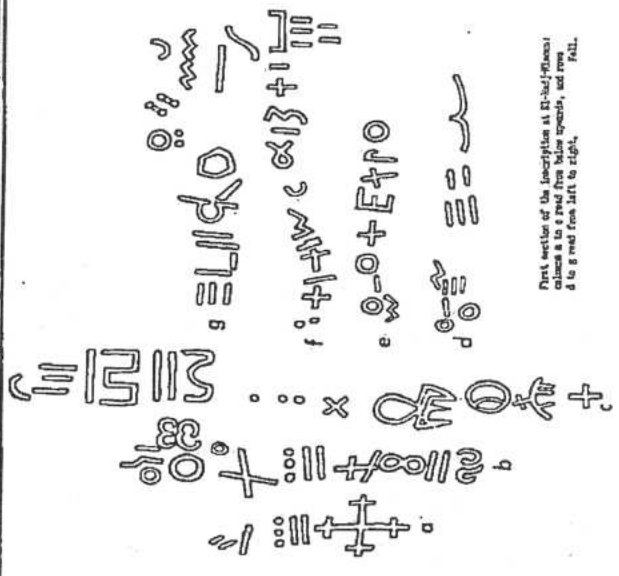

*595 It is supposed be a principle of universal law, that, if an uninhabited country be discovered by a number of individuals, who acknowledge no connexion with, and owe no allegiance to, any government whatever, the country becomes the property of the discoverers, so far at least as they can use it. They acquire title in common. The title of the whole land is in the whole society. It is to be divided and parceled out according to the will of the society, expressed by the whole body, or by that organ which is authorized by the whole to express it.
If the discovery be made, and possession of the country be taken, under the authority of an existing government, which is acknowledged by the emigrants, it is supposed to be equally well settled, that the discovery is made for the whole nation, that the country becomes a part of the nation, and that the vacant soil is to be disposed of by that organ of the government which has the constitutional power to dispose of the national domains, by that organ in which all vacant territory is vested by law.

There were several kingdoms in 5th century North Africa. The governing kingdom in North Africa at the time of Asqu-Shamal was the Mauro-Roman Kingdom which establishes itself as the prior discovery.

Summary

According to Totten's analysis of the foregoing decipherment in the light of known historical events (Totten, OPES v. 3, no. 47, following) the most probable date for the voyage and colonization reported in the inscription would be about 480 A.D. The actual inscription we is inclined to date to ca 535 A.D. for reasons given in his paper. The epigraphy itself is not in conflict with this dating, and cannot, in fact, provide better data than the actual statements given in the text. I therefore accept Totten's dating as the best available at this time.

Both Professor Totten and I infer that the only possible interpretation of Aeqa Shamal, the "North-Land" mentioned as the destination of the voyagers, is North America. The word Aeqa implies in Arabic a mainland, not an island. Further, in line (y) of my transcription, the destination, when sighted by the voyagers, is referred to as Q-R, i.e. qara, a word that in modern Arabic means a continent. The continent, thus twice so-called, is stated to lie to the west of Morocco "in the setting sun", and it is separated from North Africa by a "trackless waste" and a "world of surging waves". The only northern continent that fits these parameters is North America.

There is further lexicographic evidence in the text. In line (y) of my transcription the voyagers are reported, upon arrival at their destination, to have then "R-Y-D Y-H", a phraseology that in the vowel-less style of old Semitic must represent Rayada yana, "ventured into the wilderness." The word used for wilderness is rayada.

Now, it is a remarkable thing that of the various supposedly mythical western lands referred to by pre-Columbian geographers, apart from Hy-Brasil, the best known are the names Parsaca (or Frenda) and Antipodia. I now believe that these words are Spanish corruptions of a Moorish tradition of a western wilderness land (Aeqa-Rayada) and, more succinctly, Wilderness (Rayada).

It is also clear from the inscription that Aeqa-Shamal was already well known to the Moroccan voyagers. They did not discover it, they merely took the decision to emigrate to this remote land in order to escape the Vandals.

An Iberian-Punic Stele of Hanno

by Barry Fell
Museum of Comparative Zoology, Harvard University

The following is the substance of a report submitted to Mr James Whittall, Chief Archeologist, Early Sites Research Society, following a visit in company with members of the Epigraphic Society and the Early Sites Research Society, to the Agawam Trading Post in Bourne, Massachusetts, where the stone described by Whittall (1975) is now located.

The stone appears to be the original stele of Hanno, a Carthaginian explorer, taking possession of the territory around Cape Cod Bay. The inscription is engraved in two lines, all the letters being in the Iberian alphabet, as tabulated by Diringer (1968). Table 1 of this paper gives a letter-by-letter comparison of the forms used on the stele with those known from inscriptions in Spain.

On page 3 of this paper a letter-by-letter transcription is given of the text, showing the inferred word linkages. As usual in Punic-related scripts, the vowels are omitted except where stressed.

A translation of the Iberian Punic text, and an approximate vocalization, is also given. The translation is based on classical Semitic roots included in e.g. Arabic dictionaries.

This stele is to be correlated with other steles now attributable to Hanno, from such widely separated localities as Eberemouse (Quebec), Tihosuco (Yucatan) and Mexley (Pennsylvania), all of which I plan shortly to report in this journal and in the Anthropological Journal of Canada. I wish to thank Mr James Whittall for drawing my attention to this important stele, Dr Henry Hugo and Mr Peter Cordall for arranging transportatio and other assistance, Professor Norman Totten and other members of the two cooperating Societies for valuable discussion.

The above documents represent the works of Barry Fell and the Epigraphic Society Council, James P. Whittall II, Margaretta S. Handke (for the Bureau of Land Management), Ancient American Magazine etc., et al. The larger excerpts are the translations of ancient Arabic/Berber texts that are extremely important with regards to tying the ancient civilization to its heirs. The larger documents after the cover marked formerly the Polynesian Epigraphic Society (gold cover with black text) refer specifically to the Bourne Stone. These documents and many others discuss several detailed points regarding the discovery and analysis on inscriptions, land discovery, etc. as discussed below…

Discovery of Inscriptions:

- Significance: The document highlights the importance of discovering inscriptions in understanding the history and culture of ancient civilizations. These inscriptions are often found on monuments, artifacts, and various historical objects, providing a wealth of information about the past.
- Methodologies: It details the methodologies used in uncovering and interpreting these inscriptions, emphasizing the meticulous work involved in epigraphy, which includes deciphering ancient scripts and languages.

Author's Opinion on Land Discovery:

- Geographical Extent and Territorial Claims: The author discusses how inscriptions serve as evidence of the geographical extent and territorial claims of ancient civilizations. By analyzing these inscriptions, historians can map out ancient boundaries and understand the expansion and contraction of empires.
- Reconstruction of Historical Narratives: These discoveries help in reconstructing historical narratives by providing tangible evidence of settlement patterns, trade routes, and interactions among different cultures. They are crucial in piecing together the history of regions that might otherwise lack written records.

Iberic Language and Morocco:

- Linguistic Connections: The document delves into the linguistic connections between the Iberic inscriptions found in the Iberian Peninsula and those discovered in Morocco. It suggests that these similarities indicate a historical relationship between the populations of these regions.
- Cultural Interactions: The analysis points to significant cultural interactions, such as trade, migration, and possibly shared governance. The inscriptions reveal not just linguistic ties but also cultural and economic exchanges that shaped the development of these civilizations.

Implications for Historical Understanding:

- Interconnectedness of Ancient Civilizations: The findings challenge the notion of isolated civilizations by highlighting the interconnectedness of ancient societies. The inscriptions provide evidence of extensive networks of trade and cultural exchange across the Mediterranean and beyond.
- Socio-Political and Economic Conditions: Inscriptions offer insights into the socio-political and economic conditions of the time, revealing details about governance, religious practices, and daily life. This helps historians gain a more comprehensive understanding of ancient civilizations.

Technological and Methodological Advances:

- Modern Techniques: The document also discusses the use of modern techniques and technologies in the field of epigraphy. Advances in imaging, digital reconstruction, and linguistic analysis have significantly improved the ability to decipher and interpret ancient inscriptions.

Biblical Scriptures

The Scriptures below have been reviewed by Noble Antonio El an ordained and credentialed minister from Uaxashaktun Ak-Pakal Muurs Nation.

1. Leviticus 25:23-24: "The land must not be sold permanently, because the land is mine and you reside in my land as foreigners and strangers. Throughout the land that you hold as a possession, you must provide for the redemption of the land."

   This passage highlights the idea that land ultimately belongs to God and should not be sold permanently, emphasizing the need for fairness and the opportunity for redemption.

2. Micah 4:4: "Everyone will sit under their own vine and under their own fig tree, and no one will make them afraid, for the Lord Almighty has spoken."

   This verse speaks to the vision of equitable land ownership where each person has their own place to live peacefully and securely.

3. Isaiah 65:21-22: "They will build houses and dwell in them; they will plant vineyards and eat their fruit. No longer will they build houses and others live in them, or plant and others eat. For as the days of a tree, so will be the days of my people; my chosen ones will long enjoy the work of their hands."

   These verses emphasize the right to enjoy the fruits of one's labor and to live in the homes they build, suggesting a sense of equity and justice in land ownership.

4. Numbers 36:7: "No inheritance in Israel is to pass from one tribe to another, for every Israelite shall keep the tribal inheritance of their ancestors."

   This law was intended to maintain equitable distribution of land among the tribes of Israel, preventing the concentration of land in the hands of a few and ensuring that each tribe retained its ancestral inheritance.

5. Numbers 34:1-12

1. "The Lord said to Moses,
2. "Command the Israelites and say to them: 'When you enter Canaan, the land that will be allotted to you as an inheritance is to have these boundaries:
3. "'Your southern side will include some of the Desert of Zin along the border of Edom. Your southern boundary will start in the east from the southern end of the Dead Sea,

4. cross south of Scorpion Pass, continue on to Zin and go south of Kadesh Barnea. Then it will go to Hazar Addar and over to Azmon,
5. where it will turn, join the Wadi of Egypt and end at the Mediterranean Sea.
6. "'Your western boundary will be the coast of the Mediterranean Sea. This will be your boundary on the west.
7. "'For your northern boundary, run a line from the Mediterranean Sea to Mount Hor
8. and from Mount Hor to Lebo Hamath. Then the boundary will go to Zedad,
9. continue to Ziphron and end at Hazar Enan. This will be your boundary on the north.
10. "'For your eastern boundary, run a line from Hazar Enan to Shepham.
11. The boundary will go down from Shepham to Riblah on the east side of Ain and continue along the slopes east of the Sea of Galilee.
12. Then the boundary will go down along the Jordan and end at the Dead Sea. "'This will be your land, with its boundaries on every side.'"

These verses are significant for several reasons related to land ownership and the fulfillment of God's promises to the Israelites:

1. Divine Allocation: The passage emphasizes that the land is given by God to the Israelites. This divine allocation signifies that the land belongs to God, and He has the authority to distribute it according to His will.
2. Fulfillment of Promises: The delineation of the boundaries fulfills the promises God made to the patriarchs Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob about giving their descendants a specific land (Genesis 15:18-21, Exodus 23:31).
3. Defined Boundaries: The detailed description of the boundaries provides clarity and prevents disputes among the tribes of Israel regarding the extent of their inheritance. It establishes a clear and unambiguous claim to specific territories.
4. Organizational Structure: By defining the land boundaries, God is organizing the nation of Israel into a structured community with designated areas for each tribe. This organization is crucial for the social, economic, and political stability of the nation.
5. Historical and Theological Importance: These boundaries have historical significance as they mark the initial geographic extent of Israel. Theologically, they reflect God's faithfulness and the concept of a holy, divinely-ordained homeland for His chosen people.
6. Symbol of God's Sovereignty: The passage reinforces the idea that God is sovereign over all nations and lands. The specific allocation to Israel serves as a testament to His control over world affairs and His ability to fulfill His covenant promises.

These passages and many others show a range of perspectives on land, including its divine gift, equity, inheritance, ethical use, and social justice implications.

Summary Of Evidence

1. Historical Evidence of Title: The submission claims that the Muurs/Moors are the rightful owners of North America, based on a historical lineage that predates the arrival of Christopher Columbus by over a thousand years. It argues that Great Britain never legally acquired title to North America through the Doctrine of Discovery, as earlier discoveries by Christian Moors invalidated subsequent claims.

2. Religious and Cultural Claims: The document states that the teachings of Ya'shua Ha Mashiakh (Jesus Christ) were present in America as early as the 4th and 5th centuries A.D., brought by the Coptic Christian Muurs. This is supported by references to historical and religious texts, including the Holy Bible and the Holy Qur'an.

3. Ancient Landmarks and Inheritance: It cites landmarks such as the Bourne Stone in Massachusetts and various mounds across North America as evidence of ancient Muur presence and civilization. The document claims that these physical markers, along with genetic ties to the land, support the Muurs' inheritance and rightful ownership.

4. Legal and Equitable Claims: The submission references various legal precedents and resolutions, such as Johnson v. McIntosh (1823) and Public Law 97-280, to argue that the Muurs are the de jure owners of the land. It emphasizes the principle that equity regards the beneficiary as the true owner.

5. Bourne Stone Landmark: The Bourne Stone in Massachusetts is presented as an ancient proclamation by Hanno the Navigator, claiming the land for the Punic Iberian Carthaginian Empire. This stone serves as a boundary marker, linking the Muurs to ancient civilizations that had settled in North America long before European colonial powers. The inscriptions on the Bourne Stone and other mounds are tied to biblical passages (Deuteronomy 19:14, 27:17; Psalm 16:6; Proverbs 22:28, 23:10) that affirm the sanctity of land inheritances and boundary markers.

6. Early Christian Church in Connecticut: The document references a 5th-century Christian church in Connecticut, identified through epigraphic evidence. Greek and North African inscriptions found at the site, along with Greek cupule patterns and other religious symbols, link this church to early Christian Moors who arrived in America from North Africa during the Vandal invasions. The epigraphic evidence here suggests a well-established presence of Christian Moors who practiced and taught their faith on these lands centuries before Columbus.

7. Paleo-American Aborigine Muur and Pre-Columbian American Moor Abstract of Title: The document includes references to various inscriptions and artifacts, such as the Abstract of Title from www.pulaskiclerk.com (Real Estate Instrument No. 2017026407, pp. 88-89) and publications by the Epigraphic Society. These inscriptions, often in scripts that predate European colonization, provide historical evidence of the Muurs' presence and their naming of the land as Asqu-Shamal.

8. Inscriptions Supporting Religious and Cultural Continuity:
The document cites the recorded adherence to the Holy Qur'an and its confirmation of the Holy Bible, drawing a continuous line of religious and cultural heritage from ancient times to the present. Noble Drew Ali's recording of their faith and its practices in Cook County, Illinois, is presented as a legal and epigraphic affirmation of their identity and rights.

9. The epigraphic summary of evidence includes:
- Ancient inscriptions on stones and mounds.
- Greek and North African inscriptions in early Christian churches.
- Recorded historical and religious texts linking the Muurs to early American settlements.
- Legal documents and abstracts of title that trace the Muurs' claims to pre-Columbian times.

This evidence provides irrefutable proof that the Uaxashaktun Ak Pakal Muurs are the rightful inheritors of the land, based on a combination of historical presence, religious practices, and legal principles, and genetic ties that predate European claims.

Questions, Answers, & Observations

1. Assessing and Scrutinizing Information: All of the included documentation critically evaluates historical, religious, and legal evidence to support the claim of title. Errors and benefits are identified through rigorous analysis, ensuring the information aligns with the Muurs' historical narrative and legal principles.

2. Why Does This Claim Constitute Title? The claim constitutes title because it is based on a continuous and documented presence of the Muurs on the land, supported by historical inscriptions, religious teachings, and legal precedents that predate European colonization.

3. How Does the Claim Constitute Title? It constitutes title through a combination of epigraphic evidence, historical documents, religious adherence based on natural law, and legal arguments that establish the Muurs' long-standing connection and ownership of the land in an allodial freehold, fee simple absolute heirship.

4. What Evidence Do You Have That This Claim Constitutes Title? The evidence includes ancient inscriptions (e.g., Bourne Stone), early Christian church records, legal documents like the Abstract of Title, and references to historical and religious texts that validate the Muurs' presence and claims to the land.

5. Weakness in case law exposed: The case law Johnson v. McIntosh (1823), did not account for the prior claims of Christian Muurs who had established presence in North America centuries before European discovery. This omission weakens the validity of later colonial claims.

6. Equity Granting Title Due to Weakness in Case Law: Equity can grant title because the prior claim by the Muurs, based on historical presence and documented evidence, predates and undermines the legitimacy of later colonial claims. The descendants of the original claimants are still present, supporting the continuity of their title.

7. Doctrine of Discovery and Prior Christian Nations: The Doctrine of Discovery, as interpreted in Johnson v. McIntosh, is based on Christian discovery. However, if prior Christian nations (such as the early Christian Moors) had already brought Christian discovery to the land, it challenges the legitimacy of later claims. The doctrine of Christianity, aligned with the Mosaic law, upholds the sanctity of prior claims and teachings.

8. Mosaic Law on Landmarks: Mosaic law, as referenced in Deuteronomy 19:14 and 27:17, emphasizes the importance of not moving or altering ancient landmarks. These landmarks signify the inheritance and rights of the original claimants. Mosaic law supports the protection of these landmarks as evidence of rightful ownership and inheritance.

Conclusion

The archaeological records provide irrefutable proof that the Muurs are the rightful inheritors of the land, based on the historical presence with the Muurs being "first in time" to set foot on the North American Continent with recorded land claims carved permanently into stone face rock on the Bay of Massachusetts with the definitive instructions "do not deface"; the "first in time" as religious pioneers to not only land on the North American Continent, but also construct ancient Christian Churches in Connecticut over 1,000 years before the fictitious notion that Christopher Columbus ever set foot in North America when in reality he landed in the Bahamas ("San Salvador"); and the legal evidence that voids all claims that the British ever acquired proper, clean, and lawful title to North America and that the American colonists post the Revolutionary War inherited a false and flawed title that cannot withstand even the most lenient of scrutiny. This begs the question and we challenge – "May any party or nation with superior title please step forth and present your historical evidence and records to refute the Muurs?" It clearly was not England, Spain, France, Portugal, Holland or any of the European powers who relied on the Johnson v. Macintosh ruling to favor Christian explorers to North America. It clearly was not the American colonists who claimed rights to North America via their flawed title from England, who legally and lawfully had no land rights to pass title onto the American Colonist post Revolution. The American Colonists cannot even challenge rights to the land via adverse possession as the U.S. National Archives and Records Administration, Papers of the Continental Congress, Washington, D:C:, item 88 and Founders Online, National Archives definitively show that in 1789 George Washington wrote a letter stating that he was "unanimously appointed… the "supreme executive Authority, [of the] Nation…" when he addressed Sidi Mohammed, the Sultan of Morocco, and declared that "[t]he Encouragement which your Majesty has been pleased, generously, to give to our Commerce with your Dominions; the Punctuality with which you have caused the Treaty with us to be observed, and the just and generous Measures taken, in the Case of Captain Proctor, made a deep Impression on the United States, and confirm their Respect for, and Attachment to your Imperial Majesty"… and… "while [Washington] remain[s] at the Head of this Nation, [he] shall not cease to promote every Measure that may conduce Friendship and Harmony, which so happily subsist between your Empire and them…." Washington acknowledged in his hand-written archived letter that the land was indeed the Empire of the Muurs and was under the dominion and control of the Sultan and the American Colonists were merely and effectively renters or leasees via the trust and usufruct that was established via the Treaty of Peace and Friendship with the Moroccan Empire in 1787 and reaffirmed in 1836. In no way, shape, or form was American Colonists' use of the land hostile to the Empire of Morocco as the Treaty is still in effect to this day and it was clearly not exclusive as the indigenous Muurs continued to live in North America and utilize the land alongside the American Colonists. Consequently, even a claim of adverse possession cannot pull rightful title away from the Muurs as the requirements abovementioned for this argument are devoid of ALL of the legal elements needed to make such a claim. We therefore conclude and assert our claim beyond a reasonable doubt that there exist no parties with superior title to the Muurs and the Uaxashaktun Ak Pakal Muurs Nation. Mosaic law unequivocally supports the protection and recognition of ancient landmarks as evidence of rightful ownership.
